Patricio Farmer Converts To Pasture Land

Ernest Lane, stockman of Odem, San Patricio County, has the right idea on planning and starting work to produce good pasture, says County Agricultural Agent R. R. Gibb. Lane has over 500 acres that were originally crop land, but are now going into improved pasture. County Agent Gibb says he is doing the kind of pasture work that turns out good grazing.

First, he fenced the fields off into six separate pastures, so he can control grazing. Then he planted two fields in Johnson grass, three fields in Rhodes grass and one field in Hubam clover. On all the fields, he put out 400 pounds of 20 per cent superphosphate an acre.

Now, says the county agent, Lane is running contour furrows at each 35 foot interval, which will prevent water runoff and loosen the soil that has been packed down. When the grass has covered these ridges, he plans to run furrows in between the original furrows so that all the surface will eventually be contoured and loosened.

LIVE AND LET LIVE

THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES: "The problem of lowering the highway death rate remains one of the nation's most serious problems. It is an appalling fact that 33,500 American citizens were killed in automobile accidents in 1946. I therefore call upon every State and every community in the land to work unceasingly through 1947 to promote highway safety.

"Laws and regulations will be of little avail unless the individual driver holds himself strictly accountable to his own conscience."

That call is to you personally to cooperate as a citizen of the United States in helping reduce highway accidents. It is a shameful record when in one year 33,500 lives are sacrificed; 1,150,000 persons are injured and $750,000,000 in property destroyed, resulting in an economic cost to the nation of $2,000,000,000 because of careless, reckless driving.

It is a national problem, but essentially the solution is in your hands. Drive safely — live and let live!

This is the first of a series of advertisements presented in the public interest by the President's Highway Safety Conference and the daily and weekly newspapers of the nation through their Press and Publisher Associations.

Top Quality Is Keynote At Garrison's Confectionery

SERIES ON HONDO BUSINESS HOUSES

BIGGER, BETTER MALTS AND MILK SHAKES DRAW YOUNG AND OLD TO HONDO

Jack Garrison, S. F. E., (Soda Fountain Engineer), spends most of his time behind the guzzling counter where he dishes out the delicacies to customers with no "economical short cuts."

J. H. Garrison came to Medina County in the creamery business, and later the confectionery in 1945. Mr. Garrison standing at the cash register is probably as familiar a picture as can be found in Hondo.

4. GARRISON'S CONFECTIONERY

When the youth of any community are released from school on a hot May day, or when they're down town shopping on any hot summer day, there seems to be, universally, a craving and a need for thick, creamy malts or milk shakes, or for ice cream in any of its forms.

Fulfilling this need in Hondo, and fulfilling it in a way that should make Hondoans proud, is Garrison's Confectionery.

For at Garrisons, neither kids nor adults are ever disappointed in what they get. In San Antonio and in Houston and in Chicago or New York the milk shakes come thin and effete and anemic. At Garrison's the people of Hondo and Medina County can sit down and be freed from at least one of the terrible disasters of our civilization — watery malts and milk shakes.

The Garrisons first came to Hondo around 30 years ago. But J. H. Garrison and his son, Jack, didn't show up til 1930 and then settled in D'Hanis. About two years later they moved to Hondo.

Mr. Garrison was in the creamery business then, and perhaps that's where he learned that water can never be a substitute for milk in such confections. In 1945 the Garrisons, father and son, bought out the confectionery from George R. Carle.

Garrison's is popular with young and old, chiefly because of the high quality of their "milk bar" products. But there are other reasons. For one thing, Garrison's seems to attempt to stock a little of everything people might need on Sunday when other stores are closed. From groceries to patented pharmaceuticals, vitamins or furniture polish, Garrison's have it; not much of it, but enough to fill a spur-of-the-moment need.

The store is owned and operated by Mr. Garrison and his son, Jack. Recently the Garrisons incorporated with a Hondo newcomer, "Scotty" Scott, who made Mexican Pecan candies. That corporation is now in the process of being dissolved.

4-H Roundup Sept. 4-5

The State 4-H Club Round-up, the largest event of the year for Texas 4-H Clubs, has been set for September 4-5 on the campus of Texas A. & M. College.

W. Potts and Lorene Stevens, 4-H Club leaders of the Texas Extension Service, have announced that each county may send to the Round-Up two 4-H boys, two 4-H girls, one woman club leader and one man leader.

The 1946 Round-Up, first of that program held in Texas, was held by and for 4-H'ers, who ran the whole show for three days of entertainment and instruction at Texas A. & M. College. Plans in making now call for a similar program, with maximum participation scheduled for the youngsters. Potts and Miss Stevens explain in addition to the county attendance quota, 4-H members who are part in the state dress pro-

EMERGENCY AIR RESCUE SERVICE NOW IN EFFECT

An emergency air search and rescue service for fliers lost or forced down within this area is now being conducted by the Army Air Rescue Service operating from Biggs Field, El Paso, Texas. Assistance will be given whether planes in trouble are civilian or military, and the unit is also authorized to transport by air anyone injured in ground accidents when other transportation is not available.

All persons who have knowledge of an airplane crash or emergency landing in this vicinity are urged to place a collect long-distance telephone call to the Army Air Rescue Service, El Paso, Texas, telephone East 3181, Extension 3991.

The area covered by the Biggs Field unit includes more than 100,000 square miles and takes in Texas, Southeastern New Mexico, and the Southern portion of Oklahoma. A force of thirty-two officers and enlisted men is constantly standing by on a 24-hour alert basis to respond to calls for assistance.

Equipment provided for rescue expeditions is elaborate and complete. Six aircraft of various specialized types are used. They include two C-47 transports, three L-5 reconnaissance planes and a helicopter.

Transports are especially equipped for flying supplies and emergency equipment to accident scenes, and for dropping supplies by parachute when necessary.

The smaller reconnaissance planes are capable of landing in remote and rugged terrain and are equipped as ambulances for flying injured persons to hospitals. The helicopter, a whirling-winged aircraft which can take off straight up and land straight down, can reach quickly by air places inaccessible from the ground.

Among the emergency equipment carried by rescue planes is a medical "bomb" which was developed by the Biggs Field Air Rescue Service for "airborne" operations. It is a small, light, portable medical unit which can be dropped from an airplane and will automatically open up a supply of antiseptics and other medical supplies of an emergency nature. When required, medical officers who are especially trained for rescue work, jump by parachute to give first aid treatment to downed fliers.

Since the Air Rescue Service unit was activated at Biggs Field in September of 1946, its men and planes have spent more than 900 hours in the air searching for lost aviators. A total of thirteen missing aircraft have been located during this period.

DIM THOSE LIGHTS, DRIVERS -- IT'S STATE LAW NOW

At last the governing body of the state has done something about those obnoxious and most annoying of drivers, the ones who refuse to dim their lights. A law has been passed compelling them to do so.

The law is a part of a general traffic code designed to make traffic laws uniform throughout the state. Cities and towns will retain their police powers where they do not conflict with state statutes.

The uniform traffic code was passed on the last day of the legislative session and was signed into law by Gov. Jester last week. It will go into effect Sept. 15.

Salient features are as follows: Accident reports required within 24 hours in cases of death, injury or properly damage exceeding $25.

Drivers striking unattended vehicle must leave a written notice giving name and address of the driver.

Overly big and speeding school buses require full stop then proceeding at speed of not more than 10 miles per hour.

Dimming of lights required when approaching and passing another car. Dimmed lights on parked vehicles on highway required at night.

Highway patrol granted authority to remove abandoned vehicles from highway.

Uniform arm-and-hand signals required.

Minimum standards set for lights and brakes, subject to inspection by highway patrol.

WANT TO BECOME A DRIVER'S LICENSE EXAMINER?

AUSTIN — The Texas Department of Public Safety is undertaking a "mass hunt" for Director Homer Garrison said today.

Objects of the search are 30 young Texas men who, come September 1, will be recruited as Driver License Examiners. Ten will fill existing vacancies and 20 will be additional personnel authorized by the recent Legislature.

"These are career service jobs," Garrison said, emphasizing that both recruitment and promotion in the Department of Public Safety are based strictly on merit.

Salaries range from $100 a month with room and board during the 4-week training period in Austin to $208.72 after training and probation have been completed. Examiners work six days a week, receive two weeks annual vacation with pay, and are entitled to benefits under the new State retirement act.

Applicants must have at least a high school education or its equivalent, be not less than 21 nor more than 35 years old, be not less than five feet eight inches in height, weigh not less than two nor more than three pounds for each inch of height, be in excellent physical condition, and have a reputation for character and uprightness of conduct that will stand the intensive investigation that is made of those who are tentatively accepted on the basis of written tests.

Competitive examinations to fill these positions will be held at various points in Texas "sometime in July," Garrison said. He urged those interested and qualified to write him, at was 4,197, with the Hondo total 200 above the pre-war year, D'Hanis dropping about 200 below and with the rural school population dropping by about 250.

In '44-'45 the rural schools dropped another hundred to 1,583. Hondo grew by a hundred to 1,151, Natalia dropped to 448 and Devine and D'Hanis remained slightly lower than the year previous. County total for that year was 4,125.

This year's census reveals about a hundred more boys than girls in the county scholastic population. There are 2,263 boys and 2,160 girls. Girls hold the advantage in the Hondo, D'Hanis and Devine districts, while the boys are more numerous in the rural schools, and in Natalia.

Of the county total this year, 60 are negroes—29 boys and 31 girls. Four of these are in rural schools, 32 in Hondo, 14 in Natalia, 10 in Devine and none in D'Hanis.

Editor's Corner

Through the combined efforts of thousands of daily and weekly newspapers throughout the United States, a National Highway Safety Program was launched this week throughout the nation. Because of its purpose alone, the campaign is one of the most praiseworthy and beneficial public services in recent years.

Any effort to reduce or eliminate the tragic toll of traffic accidents which annually account for thousands of needless deaths is worthy of whole hearted support.

Last year 33,500 persons were accidentally killed on our streets and highways. The staggering total of 1,150,000 were injured and an economic loss of over two billion dollars resulted.

What makes those lost lives, the pain and suffering, and the economic loss more tragic is the realization that, with proper care and precaution, they could have been avoided.

Now, as a result of the President's Highway Safety Conference last year and the second meeting of the Conference last week, an intensive effort is being made to prevent traffic accidents in the future. Much has already been accomplished in the way of traffic enforcement and engineering. The National Highway Program is the newspapers' contribution to the educational phase of accident prevention.

But it has been significantly pointed out by Maj. Gen. Philip B. Fleming, general chairman of the President's Highway Safety Conference, that brief, spasmodic campaigns will not bring lasting results. There is need for intensive effort on the part of every man, woman and child.

"Each of us, as driver or pedestrian," says General Fleming, "must accept in good faith our own individual responsibility. Each man, woman and child must accept in his own conscience, as before the law, the responsibility for the consequences of his own acts."

That can mean only one thing. We must all, by our own individual efforts, strive constantly for the improvement of the public attitude toward safety. The result will be the sparing of our own lives or those of the ones near and dear to us.

Don't herold says:

I don't go to church as much as I should, but I read a lot of fine books.

I've been reading one by a New York preacher, Harry Emerson Fosdick. It's called "On Being Fit To Live With."

Today I want to cheat a little and let Mr. Fosdick write my column. I quote from his book: "Observe that Jesus wants us to be great. He admired energy, enthusiasm, competence. He had no use for lazy, listless, negative folk, and in His parables He took efficient, energetic businessmen, farmers housewives and stewards as His examples. Far from denying this powerful drive in human nature to be somebody, He counted it one of man's most valuable possessions, but He raised a new criterion by which to judge what it means to be somebody: serve most, help most! Usefulness — that is greatness, He said."

many free studio shows of the familiar radio names. Between broadcasts they sit on the dozens of outdoor benches which Mr. Rockefeller provides around the Prometheus fountain and the sunken plaza, or take the guided tours through the fabulous skyscrapers above them. Thus everybody seems satisfied, at least for a few summer days or weeks — and that is something in this troubled world!

It was said 23 hundred years ago by the Greek, Xenophon, that "When agriculture flourishes, all other pursuits are in full vigor; but when the ground is forced to lie barren, other occupations are almost stopped, as well by land as by sea."

In opposition to Russia's proposal, to quote the writer further:

"The United States wants an international control body, empowered to inspect atomic-energy activities within all member countries, to report any aggressive tendencies and to recommend punitive action for violation of controls, by a majority of the signatories. That is, a measure of national sovereignty would be traded for mutual security."

How one nation or any association of nations that has voluntarily refused to arm itself can effectively enforce "punitive action" against a violator whose act of violence consists of arming itself does not appear.

"Power to enforce is a prerequisite to 'punitive action.' Which power among the United

Vacationists Mail Bag

June 18, 1947
Champlain, Quebec

Dear Sirs:

From Sheboygan, Wisconsin we went to Green Bay, Wis. where we got mail. In Green Bay our radio stopped working so we stopped at a Dealer and had it fixed. Green Bay is the oldest settlement in Wisconsin.

From Green Bay we went to Mainette, Menominee, Escanaba, and to Manistique, Michigan where we spent the night. These cities are paper, box, glove, match manufacturers, also have knitting mills and chemical plants.

Then Tuesday we went to Newberry, Mich. and to Sault Ste. Marie Mich. where we crossed over on a ferry into Sault Ste. Marie Canada and had lunch. Then we saw the Soo Locks between Lake Superior and Lake Huron. There are four locks and they can raise or lower a 6 to a 600 foot ship in 18 minutes, 34 ft. After crossing the Straits of Mackinac by ferry we were in Mackinaw City, Michigan where we spent the night. The boat ride took about an hour.

The next morning we took a boat to Mackinac Island, on which no cars are allowed, bicycles and horse drawn buggies are the means of transportation. We took a buggy ride around the Island. The highest point on the Island is Fort Holmes, 325 feet high, which was built by the British in 1812. We had a rough boat ride back to Mackinaw City. Then we went on to Petoskey, Traverse City, and Manistee on Lake Michigan where we spent the night.

Thursday we went to Ludington and to Muskegon. Then we went to Grand Rapids, the furniture capitol of America. Many other products are manufactured there. Then we went to Lansing, the capitol of Michigan. Reo, Oldsmobile and Fisher Bodies Plants are also located there. At Brighton, Michigan we got mail, then we drove on to Dearborn, where we spent the night.

Friday we visited the Greenfield Village and the Edison Institute of the Ford Foundation. We also saw the Ford Test Ground. In Detroit we saw the Ford, Lincoln, and Chrysler Plants. Also the River Rouge plant where a strike was in progress. In Toledo, Ohio there are shipping and glass works, scale factories, also one of the oldest coffee roasting and spice mills in the United States. From there we went to Norwalk, Ohio where we spent then night.

Saturdays in Cleveland we passed steel, paints, electrical appliances, clothing, brass and bronze plants. We drove through the business district during the rush hour. From there we went to Dunkirk, N. Y. where we had mail but the Post Office closed at noon so we didn't get our mail. Then we went on to Buffalo, N. Y. where we spent the night.

NEW YORK — And now cometh the summer — New Yorkers, vacation-bent, begin pouring out of the city into the woodlands, mountains and sunshine — and the residents of those quiet, cool purities begin streaming into N. Y. for their own vacations.

It's a change of scene, and of tempo for both — the out-of-town folk get a kick out of this biggest, tallest, richest, and busiest city in the world, and the residents thereof flee to the smallest, woodsiest, calmest spot they can find or afford.

Center of attraction for visitors no longer is tawdry Broadway with its neon-bedecked movie palaces — folks have them at home. It is Rockefeller Center in the heart of Manhattan, or — as out-of-towners know and call it, "Radio City." They know it from their winter-time broadcasts, and they flock to it to attend the

Crazy Hat Wins Refrigerator!

One of those "Breakfast in the morning" radio shows came to Capitol City last week, and Sarrah Carey won first prize for wearing the craziest hat in the audience. It was a full-sized refrigerator! (The prize, not the hat.)

"Glad them hats of hers paid off at last," says Ed, treating the whole thing like a joke. But you could see he was proud of Sarrah.

From where I sit, there's another thing Ed can be proud of: the way he's put up with those hats of Sarrah's, with never a criticism; just as she's put up with Ed's pipe and the other little freedoms he enjoys.

They've got that refrigerator home now, stocked with beer; and we're going over tonight to drink a toast — not just to Sarrah's hats taking first prize ... but to a happily married couple, who've learned to live with one another's differences in tastes — whether it's a taste for hats or beer!

QUIHI 7, RIO MEDINA 5

The brave warriors of Quihi who two weeks ago startled the county by dropping league-leading D'Hanis, broke out of their three-way tie for last place Sunday as Hondo bumped Utopia and LaCoste remained idle.

E. Oefinger and F. Hartman did the hurling for Quihi with Reitzer coming in and blanking the Rio Medinamen in the last inning. They allowed only five hits while their team mates collected 14 off L. Lutz and the Boehme brothers. Lutz was credited with the loss.

Katydid. Yup, Katy Rohrbach wandered out onto the premises this week and looked longingly at our new Piper Special, so we took her up for a little trial hop so she could see how it feels.

She was worried at first. She said "Are you sure I'll get down all right?" We told her "Don't worry — we have never left anyone up there yet." By the time she reached terra firma again she was an aviation enthusiast.

Buster Goff and Tommy Amberson went up for trials, too, to see what Katy was so happy about. Now they're just as anxious to take the complete course.

Henry Windrow is wasting no time — he's got ten hours of solo now. He says he went up so high the other day that he actually caught sight of the used car prices. He said the earth looked like a little pill.

Funny thing — when he came down and looked over the city papers he decided it still looked the same way.

Charles Masters is the latest solo we've had here. Bob Corder, Jim Collins of D'Hanis and Merl Hughey of the Village are due for Private Pilots Licenses this week.

Better come out in this fine flying weather and look at your city or county from the air. By the way, if you could come at the right times we could start your course right away. See you next week.

The Hondo Blues, a squad of teenage Latin Americans, brought their win record one game ahead of their loss column last week as they defeated the Castroville Sports 5-3.

The Blues now have won five and lost four. Hard hitters, the Blues have run their game scores as high as 20 against Uvalde and Sabinal. Their hustle sometimes runs away with them, however, resulting in errors that have cost them a few games.

New Plan For Enlistees

A new AAF recruiting plan is now in effect in which high school graduates may apply and be selected for training in certain specialized AA training courses of their choice prior to enlistment and without obligation.

Applicants must write directly to the commanding General, Air Training Command, Barksdale Field, La., giving full name, address, age, race, summary of previous military service, if any, a transcript of high school credits and three letters of recommendation.

Applicants should list three training courses in order of preference from list of available courses which can be obtained from M-Sgt. R. A. Koranek, recruiting sergeant in Hondo.

The Air Training Command will review all applicants and notify each individual of selection or rejection. Accepted applicants will receive a letter which authorizes entrance into course of choosing, provided they are found qualified for enlistment.

A DRIVE OVER HIGHWAY 173

Jourdanton one day last week afforded an opportunity to study a highway that means much to the future of Hondo. With Mrs. Davis at the wheel of our 1939 Ford, the trip down consumed a little over an hour, driving at a moderate speed. The road signs marked the distance between Hondo and Jourdanton at 52 miles; but our speedometer registered only 50. It is eight miles from Hondo to the creek bridge, twelve miles from the bridge to Devine and thirty or thirty two miles from Devine to Jourdanton.

The Highway is paved from Hondo to the east line of the corporate limits of Devine. From that point it has been graded for a distance of some years for a distance of something like twenty miles in the direction of Jourdanton. For the rest of the distance it has but recently been graded, and several bridges and culverts are still under construction. Despite this unfinished condition this section is easy to travel.

The most noticeable feature of the road is the fewness of curves and the gentleness of those that do appear. There are numerous stretches for miles and miles that are as straight as an arrow. For instance, the almost entire twelve miles from Devine to where it curves westward to cross Hondo Creek at right angles. This curve at the creek is the only curve of consequence on the entire road. The next most noticeable one is that made to bring the road into Highway 90 at right angles. These curves, instead of bringing the road into Hondo on an airline to Devine, probably accounts for the present distance between the two points being twenty miles instead of nineteen as provided by the original survey made in 1896 when that section of the road was first projected.

A noticeable fact is that the Highway runs straight through the center of the business section of Devine, crossing both the railroad track and Highway 81, right in the heart of the city. While it runs straight into Jourdanton and right in front of the courthouse. It was further noted that a massive modern garage building is already nearing completion on the Highway not far from the Atascosa County courthouse. There is no evidence at either place of "fear of through traffic" or efforts to divert it over a "by-pass."

Jourdanton, like Hondo, however, made the mistake of taking no action to continue the Highway on in its logical direction toward the coast, and interested parties secured the designation of a road leading off south toward the Rio Grande as the continuation of 173.

There is evidence now, however, that with the growing importance of Corpus Christi, the people of Jourdanton are tiring of traveling an out-of-the-way route to reach that port and will soon see that 173 is rightfully extended in an easterly or south-easterly direction to connect with U. S. 281 and State 9 and thus give this section almost an arrow-straight road to deep water.

And in this connection, let it be again emphasized that our town should lose no time in opening North Front Street from Lover's Lane Westward through town and to a junction with a north and south road west of the air-field as a hundred-foot roadway, in so far as practical. This should be done not only as a convenience to local travel and parking, but both as a protection against but I hope permissible. Recently in his "Happenings in 1915" column in the Brackett News-Mail, my long-time friend, Will W. Price, did me the kindness to recall when I visited his town for the first time as a Field Agent for the State Department of Agriculture and organized one of my first of quite a number of Farmers Institutes. The reminder calls up pleasant memories of several subsequent visits there, during one of which I made a motor trip to practically every school in Kinney County. Memories of the courtesies he extended on these occasions and those received at the hands of others of our mutual friends, are gratefully treasured.

Wednesday of last week a pleasant gentleman walked into the printshop and asked to see Fletcher Davis. He introduced himself as W. Walston of Sutherland Springs, and explained that having heard my name over the radio program sponsored by this paper from Hondo some months ago, dropped in while passing through enroute to Uvalde, to see if I was the Fletcher Davis he used to know in Arkansas. I wasn't the guy. I only passed through Arkansas. I didn't stop to get acquainted in Arkansas. Who would when he could be coming to Texas? His visit called to mind a peculiar coincidence. Upon the occasion of my first visit to what is now the ghost town of the twin towns of Sutherland Springs in 1915, upon calling for my mail at the post office window and turning around to depart, a gentleman remarked to me that he used to know a Fletcher Davis in Arkansas. And the gentleman was not Mr. Walston for he did not arrive there until some years later. This other Sutherland Springs man was a pleasant gentleman also. Lots of pleasant people are from Arkansas, but so far as yet proven two Fletcher Davises must have remained in Arkansas for I am not either one of them!

TRADING FOR SECURITY

Pointing out that the United Nations Security Council has admitted failure to achieve an agreement to establish international atomic-energy controls despite several months of effort to do so, and will make another try at the U. N. General Assembly in September — an editorial wretchedly sums up the irreconcilable differences between Russia and the United States in two succinct paragraphs as follows:

"The Soviet Union wants an international atomic-energy control treaty, enforced within each nation's jurisdiction by that nation's own government, with the single-power veto privilege retained over punishment of violations. In short, that would be nothing more than voluntary adherence to a set of pious principles — a scrap of paper."

And a mere "scrap of paper" is, indeed, all such an agreement could be!

The writer could very appropriately (See FLETCHER, last page)

Highway 90, along South Front St., becoming traffic congested, and as an invitation to the state to continue its 173 through Hondo and northwesterly to a juncture with U. S. 82, and so put Hondo on another transcontinental highway, this time from the Canadian Border to deep water on the Texas gulf coast.

Why do we thus delay in so vital a matter?

QUARTER HORSE TRACK

* A quarter mile track is under construction at Bandera and is expected to be ready in about 30 days. The county's first race track, site will be known as the Bandera Amusement Center.

Buddy Graff of Hondo took first in the tie-down calf roping event at Bandera, according to last week's Bulletin, and was second in bull-dogging.

HEKUVA TIME FOR FIRE

In Karnes City, the local paper, the Citation, carries a story of fate's unkindness to the volunteer fire department.

Annual banquet night was June 12 and the firemen with guests and wives assembled for the big affair. Vittles were on the way when the alarm sounded and the wives, kids and guests found themselves alone. Fire was soon extinguished and the fire fighters came back with better appetites.

LAY THAT POODLE DOWN

Devine is one part of the country that is not going to the dogs. Editor Dubose of the News reports in his paper last week that a New York outfit has sent him a lot of stuff to print about dogs. With all due credit to dogs, sez Mr. Dubose, the canines and the criminals are getting too much space and we could stand a bit more on "public morals" and "true religion."

To which we can only add "Amen."

BIGWIGS ORGANIZE

Way out West in Sabinal they have a new organization which, on paper at least, looks like it ought to do a good job for the advancement of the community. It's called "The Council of Presidents," and includes presidents or heads of all the organizations in Sabinal.

SAFETY TIP OF THE WEEK

What is so rare as a day in June — when at least 90 Americans aren't killed, 3,000 injured, in highway accidents?

June is the first month of crowded holiday traffic — long bumper-to-bumper lines of cars on the move to the mountains, the beaches, the lakes. It is a month when daytime smashups increase sharply.

National Conservation Bureau safety specialists say one out of every five happens when a driver gets tired of looking at the same old jalopy in front of him and pulls out of line to make a dash for the first free space he can find up ahead. Too often he slams head-on into another out-of-liner, or in trying to squeeze by, he sideswipes the car ahead.

The center line of a highway is a safety line; crossing or straddling it, except when the road is clear and straight, may be courting disaster.

June days are perfect days — for the careful driver to live and let live.

Last year 33,500 persons died in automobile accidents in the United States.

That fact may not register very strongly. After all, 33,500 is just a figure.

Maybe you can visualize the extent of the slaughter a little better if you will imagine people lined up in parade formation and marching from noon to sundown to pass a reviewing stand.

Or, suppose all those people had been killed at the same place — in front of your home, say. Then you could have stood on your front porch day and night, week in and week out, and witnessed a death on the average of every 13 minutes.

That's as many people as live in such a city as Elkhart, Indiana, or Paducah, Kentucky, or Watertown, Massachusetts. They are all dead now, killed in accidents that could easily have been avoided. Hundreds of thousands of orphans, widows and bereaved parents are left to mourn in every city in the land.

Even so, 1946 was not our worst year for traffic fatalities. All things considered, the record for that year was pretty good. The most tragic year in motoring history was 1941 when 37,512 persons were killed. That was the high point to which traffic fatalities had steadily climbed over a 30-year period beginning about 1912 when 1,758 died. After 1912, the popularity of the automobile grew, and so did the number of deaths. Year by year the number killed increased, with a few exceptions — notably during the war when gasoline rationing drastically curtailed driving.

After Japan surrendered and gasoline rationing was abandoned, fatal accidents shot upward. In the first four or five months of last year, people were being done to death in such staggering numbers that it was confidently predicted the fatality list would exceed that for 1941. So when I say that the record for 1946 was "pretty good," what I mean is that it might have been much worse, that the rising curve of fatalities was turned downward, and that the number killed in proportion to miles driven was substantially less than in the year before. The improvement seems to be continuing into 1947.

It is significant that the tide turned last year following the President's Highway Safety Conference held at Washington early in May. Alarmed by the senseless and inexcusable slaughter, President Truman called together the Governors of the States, mayors of the larger cities, legislators, engineers, judges, educators, and other outstanding citizens to see if some means could not be devised to put an end to it.

The Conference adopted an Action Program which contained recommendations of experts on various phases of the problem. Engineers, for example, showed how safer highways could be built. Lawyers stressed the importance of uniform traffic regulations. Judges and police officials drew up a list of the best techniques for traffic law enforcement. Educators drafted a program for teaching safety in the schools.

The 2,000 delegates to the Conference took the Action Program to their home communities, determined to put it into effect among their own friends and neighbors. Some 20 of the Governors called safety conferences of their own to supplement the President's Conference. So did the mayors of some of the larger cities.

This is the first of thirteen articles dealing with the subject of traffic safety. Other articles to follow in The Anvil Herald by authoritative spokesmen in the safety field, will show concretely how accidents are caused, how they can be prevented, what they cost in property damage as well as in lives lost, and what you, as a citizen, can do about them.

SWING OF TEXAS MARKETS

Many southwest farm markets showed considerable easiness last week, but some held firm, and corn and milo rose to even higher levels, according to the Production and Marketing Administration, U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Eggs held firm last week, but poultry showed slight easiness at some places. Eggs brought 37 cents per dozen at Denver, Amarillo, and Austin; 37 1-2 at New Orleans; around 38 at Fort Worth, Dallas, and San Antonio; and 44 at Houston. Dallas bought fryers at 35 cents per pound, and heavy hens at 2 4 to 25. Fort Worth paid 33 to 35 for fryers, and 21 to 23 for heavy hens. New Orleans took fryers at 33 and hens at 26.

Corn values rose rapidly last week in response to unfavorable planting weather in the corn belt states. Total advances of around 30 cents per bushel brought No. 1 white to $2.62 Friday, and yellow to $2.40 at Fort Worth and Galveston. Wheat and oats eased down another nickel or so, and sorghums gained about the same amount.

Milled rice met slow demand. Early plantings made good progress under favorable conditions. Most feeds held fully steady; bran gained $6 per ton, and shorts lost $4. Trade expects prairie hay movement from North Worth; $16.50 to $18 at Wichita; and up to $18 at Oklahoma City. Medium to good cows brought $17 to closed the week at $15.50 to $16.50 at Houston; $16 to $17.50 at Fort

Texas and Oklahoma next week. Peanut exports through April 1947 neared ten times the volume for the same period in 1946. Texas 12-months combing wools and the finer territory wools continued in good demand.

Cotton prices fluctuated widely, but closed a little lower. Extremely light offerings and demand for only special qualities sharply restricted trading.

Lambs dropped from 50 cents to $1 at San Antonio to around $3 at Wichita last week. Aged sheep and feeder lambs remained steady at Ft. Worth, but sold generally lower at other markets. Good spring lambs closed at $20 to $21.50 at Ft. Worth; and medium to good $17 to $19 at Oklahoma City.

Cattle markets weakened materially on practically all classes, with the better grades of cows, steers and yearlings holding up best. Good cows

Atlacide Found 95% Effective On Johnson Grass

Calhoun County farmers are finding encouragement in killing Johnson grass through the use of the compound, atlacide.

County Agricultural Agent Henry F. New reports that a weed eradication demonstration held in the county recently shows that the atlacide, when applied to Johnson grass when it is in the boot stage, can result in a 95 percent kill on the grass.

One pound of atlacide mixed in a gallon of water on the grass, says the county agent, and after three days, a check showed that the pest was dying. A similar check three weeks later showed 95 percent kill, which is very encouraging, he says, since farmers in the area have long been hunting quick and sure ways to get rid of Johnson grass.

Since the chemical can cause temporary soil sterility, it was applied to grass only in turn rows and bar ditches. None was applied on cultivated fields. The method still promises to be effective in keeping the grass from spreading into cropland.

STORY OF A LAWBREAKER

Speeding through an intersection stop sign, one of these drivers collided with another car. The force of the crash entangled the two cars and they skidded together across the intersection and slammed into a stone wall. Both drivers and a passenger were killed, two were seriously injured. National Conservation Bureau reports that disregard of traffic control devices ranks third as a cause of death in motor vehicle accidents.
